FROM THE DESK OF VICE CHANCELLOR

Knowledge is like a magnet, which attracts the information around it. If we have better knowledge about anything, it is easier to absorb the related information or fact. Knowledge plays a critical role in everyone's life. Knowledge teaches us how to live life. The most important element in the acquisition of knowledge is our intellect. Wisdom comes from intellect. Without intellect, assimilation of knowledge is not possible.

Any knowledge is considered useful only when we are able to use it in daily life. Otherwise, such knowledge is useless and does not benefit anyone. There is no use in storing it in the mind.

The ignorant people start a little work but get very upset. Shakespeare wrote, "Ignorance is darkness." The famous philosopher Plato said, "It is better not to be born than to be ignorant because ignorance is the root of all misfortunes. A knowledgable person becomes more valuable to the society; he/she earns unconditional respect over the period of time.

A University is the epitome of teaching, learning, and knowledge sharing which together shape the life and career of a large number of youth in the framework of higher education. Shri Vaishnav Vidyapeeth Vishwavidyalaya believes that knowledge is an important part of our life. Knowledge acts as a key to being successful in life. Without knowledge, one may simply live in darkness. Knowledge is the first key to success. A large number of activities and events were organized by the students and for the students throughout the academic year. This Annual Report covers the period of the last one year from July 2021 to June 2022 and presents a series of glimpses

Engineer's job is multi disciplinary & team work. So in these difficult situations of covid – 19, all trades of people affected and lost their jobs. Engineer's role is to bring back the skilling & reskilling of the people and create employability to the people in creative manner, for example A Smartphone based labor marketing information system can be created so that people find jobs on their phone itself and can do their jobs. It may reduce the unemployability and waiting period for someone to call them for the jobs. It may bring back the local information usage, valueable households, women into employability and also help young people to find jobs. This kind of policy should bring to overcome the Covid situations in our country.

Two-Day International Web-Conference on "Future of Food and Agriculture: Trends and Challenges" held under VAKSANA-2021
(20-21.09.2021)

An annual feature of the institute, VAKSANA-2021 was held online (because of COVID 19 pandemic guidelines) on 20-21 September 2021. This year's event was a two-day affair and the institute's 3rd annual event. Like, last year this year's event was also held online and was second International Web-Conference. The event was inaugurated by Prof.(Dr.) Upinder Dhar, Conference Patron and Vice Chancellor of SVVV. He welcomed the Guest Speakers Dr. D. N. Gokhale, Director of Instruction (FoA), Vasantrao Naik Marathwada Krishi Vishwavidyalaya (VNMKV), Parbhani, Dr. D. B. Deosarkar, Director of Extension Education, VNMKV, Parbhani and Dr. Naresh Selokar, Scientist, ICAR-National Dairy Research Institute, Karnal, Haryana. The Vice Chancellor in his inaugural address spoke about 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development Goals. Dr. K.N. Guruprasad, Organizing Chairperson and Coordinator, Shri Vaishnav Institute of Agriculture, Indore also welcomed the chief guests and participants of the web conference. He in his welcome address said that the agriculture sector is the backbone of the economy of any country. India needs a substantial boost in agriculture production to meet the present and the future challenges. Use of scientific advances, in particular the advances made in molecular biology and their safe deployment is of great importance.

Dr. D. N. Gokhale, delivered a presentation on "Socio Economic Impact and Impact Dynamics of Bt. Cotton in India". He concluded that we need technology that contributes to increasing yields. Indian farmers face numerous uncertainties and crop management challenges, which affect farm yields and incomes. And knowledge of cultivation and correct agronomic practices make a significant impact. It would also be worthwhile to note that GM seeds have helped conserve biodiversity with higher productivity from limited acreage, thus the expansion of agricultural land into forest areas has been greatly curtailed in several countries.

Dr. Naresh Selokar delivered a lecture on "Buffalo Cloning: A Tool to Multiply India's Black Beauty". He concluded that India owns the best buffalo breeds, particularly Murrah which is famous all over the world for high milk production. India's white and pink revolution cannot be imagined without the contribution of buffalo, and to achieve these, the best productive animals need to be produced through scientific interventions. Animal cloning is a technique used to produce multiple copies of the best animals without normal reproduction. In India, buffalo cloning has already happened and India's first cloned buffalo was produced in 2009. Later, several buffalo clones were produced and attempts are ongoing to produce stock of more elite animals. Buffalo cloning has made its way from scientific manuscript to farmer's farm. In this article, he provided an overview of the progress of buffalo cloning in India.

Prof. Vinod Dhar, Conference Convener and Head, Shri Vaishnav Institute of Agriculture, Indore proposed the words of thanks. He said though, gains in productivity and technological advances have contributed to more efficient use of natural resources and improved food security but due to climate change, intensification of natural disasters and increased upsurge in the movement of pests and diseases across boundaries of different countries, the sustainability of agricultural productivity and food security is threatened. Expressing optimism, he observed that there will be use of satellites, IoT, drones for better collection of data regarding soil health, crop condition as far fertility, status of pest infestation, crop area and yield is concerned. Many startups in agriculture taken up by highly educated young ones show that they understand the potential of putting money in this sector.

A total of one hundred and forty-six abstracts were received, and out of these, fifty-four papers were presented in this web conference. On day first 20 September 2021, one oral presentation session was conducted and on day two 21 September 2021, three parallel sessions were held- two for oral presentation and one for poster presentation.

Shri Vaishnav Institute of Fine Arts, Shri Vaishnav Vidyapeeth Vishwavidyalaya organised Fifth National Poster Competition 'Kalakriti-V' on the theme 'Health and Wellness' on October 9, 2021. The jury members were senior artists Mrs. Preeta Gadkari, Mrs. Pradnya Durage and Mrs. Archana Jha. Convener of the program, Ar. (Prof.) Vishal Yardi proposed the welcome address. He shared that Kalakriti was an attempt to find out talent related to fine arts among school students of different age groups. It offers a platform to showcase such hidden talents along with motivating and preserving the talent of sketching and painting as well as all of the seven fine arts disciplines. He stressed that these students who take up a combination of fine arts programs or subjects demonstrate enhanced verbal and written skills, improved memory and improved concentration. Such students also show higher order thinking skills like analyzing and problem solving approaches.

The Guggenheim museum shows a similar link between studying art and increased literacy skills. He said that art gives meaning to our lives and helps us to understand the person within us. It helps us to understand our world. Art is an essential part of our culture because it allows us to have a deeper understanding of our emotions, increases our self awareness, allow us to open new ideas and experiences. He welcomed the jury members and congratulated the team members for their hard work. Ar. Yardi congratulated all the students who participated in Kalakriti-V. He motivated them to place more importance in enthusiastic participation rather than on the results.

Jury member and senior artist Mrs. Preeta P. Gadkari addressed the students and expressed her pleasure of seeing the work done by young students. She shared that the art done by youth is very energetic and free from influences. An artist's work shares the thoughts and personality of the artist. So an artist should be very sensitive and conscious about his art. The artist should undertake art making as a meditative experience. They should detatch them selves from the outer world while creating works of art. She shared her own experiences of learning art and evolving her own visual vocabulary.

Mrs. Pradnya Durafe motivated the students to try and create art that reflects their own personality, emotions and thoughts. She urged the participants to develop their work with hard work and put their soul in their art; not to take short cuts or copy other artists. Mrs. Archana Jha expressed her happiness of seeing the posters made by the students. She was happy to see that in spite of lockdown and pandemic, the students are continuing their efforts in poster making and painting. She encouraged the participants that when they develop their art, they will simultaneously develop themselves. Artists enhance when they enhance their efforts of creating their art. So, the students should continually practice their art and strive to grow with their art.

After motivating words of the jury members, the results of Kalakriti-V were announced. Winner of Age group 16-18 years was Arshil Khan and in age group 19-22 years was Diksha Choudhary. Dr. Anu Ukande hosted the online event. Mrs. Alka Jha proposed words of thanks. More than 26 participants joined in this online poster competition.

Three-Days Online Training Programme on SDG12: Responsible Consumption and Production organized by Centre of Excellence in Sustainable Development, SVVV (27-29.01.2022)

Introduction to the course

The 2030 agenda for sustainable development revolves around people, planet, and prosperity. Countries across the globe are taking initiatives to bring in the transformation by fulfilling 169 targets and achieving 17 sustainable development goals (SDGs). The three days training program was conducted on "SDG 12: Responsible Consumption and Production. Ensuring sustainable consumption and production" patterns is imperative to avoid any disaster. The resources are limited and the pace of utilizing resources is greater than the pace these are replenished. The entire process of producing a product and then consuming or utilizing creates multiple benefits in the form of generating employment, bringing technological advancement, making lives easier but then there are certain challenges that needs to be addressed. Manufacturing of products requires raw materials for which resources are extracted from mines. Mining areas are prone to geological disasters. Apart from mining, the production process involves generation of different kinds of waste that demands proper management.

Waste management, depletion of natural resources, global warming, environmental pollution, natural disasters are some of the big concerns to be tackled by all the nations across the globe. All these concerns are equally important and connected to each other. The sustainable development goal-12 regarding conscious consumption and judicious use of resources is imperative in addressing these issues. The production processes need to be made responsible focusing on entire life cycle of the product. Along with the efficiency of the products and their processes the rate of consumption needs to be assessed as the nature has its own constraint and capacity to support the ecosystem. The time has ripe to educate the young generation and common masses regarding all these issues.

Looking the priority of these concerns, a 3-days training program was jointly organized by Centre of Excellence in Sustainable Development (CESD), Shri Vaishnav Vidyapeeth Vishwavidyalaya (SVVV), Indore and National Institute of Disaster Management (NIDM), Ministry of Home Affairs, Government of India, New Delhi. The program witnessed the speakers from academia, industry and from organizations of national/ international repute.

The best way to deal with cancer and its expenses is to take insurance at very young age. It gives benefits like at the early stage the cost of insurance will be low and, in any chance, if one is diagnosed with cancer, it will provide financial stability to the individual.

Dr. Suresh Sehgal, Oncologist at Indore Cancer Foundation thrown light on the topic "Surgery in Breast Cancer including Reconstruction".He shared that the breast cancer which is the most common variant of cancer seen in the society. But people are afraid to come to the doctor for treatment. The reason for this is because people are afraid of surgical table. Lifestyle is the main reason for breast cancer, and it can be prevented with proper and healthy lifestyle. If you follow good lifestyle 30%-40% risk of cancer can be avoided.

The breast cancer is totally curable with 3 of its methods and they are Surgery; Radiation and Chemotheraphy. The surgery is the best way of cure the breast cancer. There isn't a need for fearing for surgery. To know the type of cancer a small needle is put into the limp of the breast and taken a tissue to determine which type of cancer it is. There is a myth that this practice will deform one badly and it is completely unreasonable. The breast is divided into 4 parts and diagnosed with it so whole breast is not removed rather just a part of limb is removed.

Central Zone Vice Chancellors Meet 2021-22on"Realizing Sustainable Development Goals through Higher Education Institutions for Securing Basic Essentials of well-being" (20-21.01.2022)

INAUGURAL SESSION

The inaugural session began with the ceremonial lighting of the lamp (virtually) by the chief guest Padma Vibhushan Dr. Anil Kakodkar, Former Chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission of India and the Secretary to the Government of India and the Guest of Honor Dr. Govindasamy Viswanathan, Founder and Chancellor of Vellore Institute of Technology, Vellore, Tamil Nadu, and all the dignitaries joined the lamp lighting.

Dr. Upinder Dhar, Vice Chancellor of the host institution, Shri Vaishnav Vidyapeeth Vishwavidyalaya, Indore, delivered the welcome address. Dr. Dhar mentioned in his speech that more than 700 million people are lacking in proper food, water, and sanitation facilities, and 30 million children are growing up in poverty. Growing inequality is driving instability and conflicts. The policies are needed for productive employment in the public and private sectors, and economic opportunities for the poor are essential. Science and technology can bring solutions for safe drinking water, lack of sanitation and can help in ending hunger and poverty. Zero hunger vision can eliminate hunger by achieving Sustainable Development Goals. According to the World Health Organization, the healthy life expectancy across the countries is shorter by 8%. So, the evidence based policy making for HEIs to contribute for achieving SDGs is the necessity of the hour.

Prof. Pankaj Mittal, Secretary General, AIU welcomed the chief guest, guest of honor and all the distinguished speakers, Apex body members, and Vice Chancellors of the various Universities to the conference. In her introductory address, she explained the theme of the meet considering 17 SDGs the role of HEIs. She also mentioned that without the contribution of HEIs, it's only a dream to achieve SDGs. She explained that how 17 SDGs were bifurcated and given to various zones to conduct the meets during last one year. Even during the pandemic, all the universities are working virtually and showing their commitment. She appreciated the efforts made by HEIs for imparting the education. She also mentioned the tools which are available on AIU website for effective teaching in virtual mode like Tedex, Covid response tool kit, etc., and invited the universities to make use of them.

Shri Purushottamdas Pasari, Chancellor, Shri Vaishnav Vidyapeeth Vishwavidyalaya, Indore welcomed all the dignitaries on behalf of SVVV, Indore. He requested the floor to work for realizing the sustainable goals not only at local level, but also at national and global levels by having proper coordination with the state and central governments.

Col. (Dr.) G Thiruvasagam, President AIU & VC, AMET University, welcomed all the dignitaries, members of AIU, speakers, and participants. While delivering the presidential address, he acknowledged the services of the Chancellor of SVVV and appreciated the excellent work carried by the Vaishnav Trust in producing the global leaders through their educational institutes. He also acknowledged the services of Chancellor of Vellore Institute of Technology, Vellore for his valuable contribution and services in the education sector since decades. In his address, he mentioned that zonal conferences are important to play a vital role in the participation of HEIs in fulfilling SDGs. There may be many challenges in implementing many decisions like NEP. Many universities are suffering even in dispensing salaries.

Private universities are suffering to get funding projects. No sign of notification from UGC till date for implementing NEP. AIU constituted a committee for NEP implementation and grievances are sent to the honorable minister also. So he invited the discussion on problems regarding research, finances, facilities, infrastructure etc. through this meet so that some useful deliberations can be made. He also mentioned HEIs can contribute ineradicating hunger, poverty, water and sanitation problems. He quoted the saying of Pandit Nehru that science can provide the solution of ill sanitation and malnutrition. As we know there are challenges in achieving SDGs, HEIs can impart into the length and depth in implementation and can also find the financial resources so that SDGs can be achieved globally.

The Guest of Honor Dr. Govindasamy Viswanathanshared very valuable and stark truths of our country that for decades we are listening that our country is becoming advancing. Still poverty, hunger is not eliminated from the country. We are 6th in the world economy and 102 in hunger ranking which is not a good sign. We produce 3 crores of graduates every year, if we can produce honest, non-corruptive, committed graduates then these problems may be solved especially the problems in the agriculture industry. The best example is Israel, they produce more crops with less use of waterand next to them is China. Government should spend more on health as 60 lakhs of students want to become doctors every year, but seats are only 85000. Medical expenses in our country areunaffordable for a common man. In the UK one college will admit 400 medical students and China will admit 300 students. We need to work on those models so that we can provide good medical facilities for the people.

18% of the world population is having a facility of 4% of available water. How to store the water, we need to construct many hydraulic structures, more interlinking of rivers etc. We were having 9 billionaires in 2000 but today 142 billionaires in India that is the growth taken place in the last 20 years. The Average income of an Indian adult is 2 lakhs, if we see the bottom to the top there is huge inequality. Students in the university should have enough knowledge of all these things so that they can be more responsible and civilized for the benefit of society. We should teach the subjects in this manner. He also expressed a hope that through this meet respective Vice Chancellors will takeaways to implement in their universities.

Thereafter, University News, a Weekly Journal of Higher Education edited by Dr. S. Rama Devi, AIU was released by the Chief Guest along with the distinguished guests.

The Chief Guest Padma Vibhushan Dr. Anil Kakodkar extended his warm greetings to all the dignitaries and participants and his happiness and joy for associating with AIU. In his opening remarks noted that with all stark facts it is time to discuss and draw the concrete deliberations in this meeting. He has mentioned, "Everybody has to take the same exam and may not be suitable to everyone; diversity is the key to sustainability". In terms of qualitatively measured outputs in research, technology, and innovations we need to think about startup culture and hi-tech startup culture. There is a difference in both. Research Park at IIT, Madras is the best example for knowledge hub, a center of excellence, advanced pharmaceuticals; cognitive domain teachings, quantum physics, etc are the thoughtful issues today. Massive producers of technocrats, scientists should be the target for today's challenging and competitive world. Are we prepared for the global competition?The key aspect is the gap between urban and rural populations. This gap is very huge as most of the population is still rural. University in the rural domain can reach the rural young population to propagate the proper knowledge, technology, and ecosystem. Capacity building, bridging the gap in the sectors like agriculture, serviceand manufacturing to eliminate poverty, hunger must be used.

Dr. Anand Rajavat, Director, ShriVaishnav Institute of Information Technology, Shri Vaishnav Vidyapeeth Vishwavidyalaya, Indore, proposed the vote of thanks. Master of Ceremony was Prof. Rupali Bharatiya and Rapporteur was Dr. Anand Babu K.

ISAGA 2022 - Pratiti…becoming aware
Webinar Series
Report (December 2021 to June 2022)

Gamification is the application of game-design elements and principles in non-game contexts. A large body of research focuses on the interplay of self-awareness, causal attribution, and action. Researchers have focused on how individuals perceive their involvement in the cause of events leading to either success or failure. Experiments have shown that when people are induced to be more self-aware, they are likely to attribute the success to themselves. The researchers have also reported that gamified events were very effective at engaging Gen Z and that team-based gamification events were particularly engaging.

The University has established the Centre of Excellence in Simulation and Gaming (CoE_SG) to promote Simulation and Gamification as pedagogy and undertake research in this upcoming multidisciplinary area of interest. The Centre is coordinating with ISAGA and other such professional bodies for global networking.

The CoE_SG of this University is organizing a Webinar series "PRATITI…becoming aware"on gaming simulations in association with ISAGA. The key speakers are ISAGA members and other GS professionals. This webinar are held once in every month from 3-4 p.m. India time. Each session is last for an hour and will end with a Q&A of 10-15 minutes. These sessions are telecast to ISAGA members, other professionals in learning and education such as heads of universities and institutes, and students in higher studies. The sessions are also telecast live on YouTube and social media. The webinar series was started on December 17, 2021 and till end of June 2022 total 07 Webinars have been conducted.

The opening webinar was conducted by Dr.Sebastiaan Meijer, Professor and Vice Dean, KTH Royal Institute of Technology, Stockholm, Sweden on December 17, 2021 (Friday). The topic of the webinar was "Understanding Where to Go: Gaming as a Method to Innovate between Organisations and Systems". According to him the design of the future society from the perspective of sustainability is more urgent than ever. However, it is notoriously difficult to bring together the different perspectives of stakeholders, systems and organisations, each with their own logic and goals. Gaming as a method provides a unique opportunity to become the meta integrator, but needs to be positioned in a concerted effort with data-driven analytics and computer simulation. In this talk, Sebastiaan Meijer provided some frameworks on how this can be done, and illustrated from a set of research and innovation projects from the past two decades.

Dr.Elyssebeth Leigh, Life Member – ISAGA, Sydney, Australia spoke at the second webinar of the series on Educating through Non-interference and No-words. The session was held on January 29, 2022 (Saturday). Dr. Leigh focused on how to understand and manage shifts in the exercise of power, authority and control that occur in learning contexts once it is decided to use simulations and games for learning. Education and learning become an adventure with risks and rewards built on playfulness and exploration. Webinar participants will play with some of these ideas as we explore the kinds of learning that can emerge from Non-interference and No-words.

Dr. Paola Rizzi, Professor of Techniques of Urban and Regional Planning at University of Sassari, Italy spoke on "Acts of Citizenship for Civic Spaces: The Role of Urban Gaming Simulation" in the III session of the webinar series "Pratiti...becoming aware" held on February 25, 2022 (Friday). In this webinar Dr. Rizzi emphasized how two important points of view in UGS: that of the player/user and that of the planner can simultaneously direct and orient both the physical and the social and economic definition of urban areas. It was an amazing session indeed and attended by people across the world.

The IV Webinar of the series was held on March 25, 2022 (Friday) on "Talk, Play and Listen ! Co-Design Practices of Simulation Games". The resource person was Dr. Heide Lukosch, Associate Professor and Head of Applied Immersive Gaming Initiative (AIGI), University of Canterbury, Christchurch, New Zealand. She is also the Chair of the International Simulation and Gaming Association (ISAGA). It was really a great experience and was an amazing session indeed by Dr. Heide. In this talk, she discussed examples, approaches, and failures to co-design of applied games, while talking, playing and listening to the target group. The talk was followed by a fruitful question-and-answer session. Dr. Upinder Dhar, Vice Chancellor – SVVV, Indore, Dr. Hidehiko, Dr. Elena, Dr. Jega, Dr. Jawahar Bhalla, Dr. Vinod Dumblekar, Dr. Santosh Dhar, Dr Mantosh and Heads of different Departments of SVVV-Indore were presented as the panelists in the Webinar. At the end, Dr. Jigyasu Dubey, Coordinator, CoE_SG – SVVV, Indore delivered the words of thanks.

Ms. Marieke de Wijse-van Heeswijk, Researcher, Radboud University, Nijmegen, The Netherlands conducted the fifth session of the webinar series "Pratiti...becoming aware" on April 23, 2022 (Saturday). The webinar was on an interesting topic "Facilitation Techniques to Enhance Learning Effects". Her presentation takes the audience along best practices in the introduction, time-out reflection and debriefing didactics and mixed-method research. She also shared the findings of the latest study in this area that have much practical relevance for enhancing learning effects in the simulation game. It was a wonderful session and was appreciated by all the participants. Dr. Hidehiko, Dr. Toshiko, Dr. Toyada,Dr. Ramesh Sharma, Dr. Vinod Dumblekar, Dr. Mantosh and Heads of different Departments of SVVV-Indore were presented as the panelists in the Webinar. In the end, Dr. Jigyasu Dubey, Coordinator, CoE_SG – SVVV, Indore expressed thanks to the speaker, panelists, and all the participants.

The VI session of the webinar series "Pratiti...becoming aware" was held on May 13, 2021 (Friday). Mr. Hans Luyckx, Director at IJsfontein, The Netherlands conducted the session on the topic "The Relationship between Play and the Academic World". He gave an insight into the Dutch serious game industry. Dutch culture is playful, Erasmus and Huizinga were the first academics focussing on the game, play and playfulness. This was followed by a question-answer session which was very fruitful. At the end, Dr. Jigyasu Dubey, Coordinator, CoE_SG – SVVV, Indore delivered the words of thanks.

The VII webinar of the series was conducted on June 24, 2022 (Friday) by Dr. FemkeBekius, Assistant professor, Department of Methodology, Business Administration, Radboud University, The Netherlands on topic "Unravelling the Complexity of Decision-Making Processes by Using Game Concepts to Support Game Design". In this webinar she explained how game theory and gaming simulation can be combined and can be used in participatory interventions with stakeholders to support decision-making. The Webinar ends with words of Thank by Dr. JigyasuDubey, Coordinator, CoE_SG–SVVV.

Total 07 webinars were conducted under the series Pratiti...becoming aware till June 2022 and another 06 are scheduled up to December 2022.
